Student Ethnic Distribution

Kaneland Schools

District 302 was formed July 1, 1948 and is a unit school district, which means that it services students in grades K-12. We encompass 147 square miles in southwestern Kane County and are at the western edge of the Fox River Valley. Within our boundaries are all or parts of the incorporated Villages of Aurora, Cortland, Elburn, Kaneville, Maple Park, Montgomery, Sugar Grove and Virgil. The District is governed by a seven-member elected Board of Education. The District operates six schools: Blackberry Creek and John Stewart Elementary Schools in Elburn; McDole Elementary School in Montgomery; John Shields Elementary and Harter Middle School in Sugar Grove; and Kaneland High School in Maple Park. Kaneland High School also houses the Fox Valley Career Center within the high school, which gives District 302's students access to several career and technical programs without having to travel to another site.

Buildings and Facilities

Updated buildings including two new elementary schools and a new middle school are among the six quality facilities within District 302. A solid technological infrastructure provides Kaneland students with 21st Century learning environments designed to maximize learning and accommodate new learning technologies.
